The track has already see its first live performance albeit ahead of release where Becca performed at IdeasFEST in September alongside the wonderful Natasha Hamilton.

"I HAVE A REALLY GOOD FEELING ABOUT THIS TRACK"

Becca said

"I'm so excited to be back on this journey, i've returned to music and already seen many things have changed but also many things haven't. The lack of good quality music that is similar to my style is a big motivator for my return. I focussed on being a mum, writing music and my charity work for several years, But my son has just left for the Military and so this is my opportunity to focus again on me, my music and sharing my music with my fans.

It was really difficult for me & my manager on selecting which of the many tracks i've written to release as my comeback single but I think the track provides some narrative about my life, where i'm at in my musical journey and i have a really good feeling about this track. I'm really hoping that my fans pick up the track, help me promote my music and help me re-launch my career. I really cannot wait to share my 5 years worth of music with the world, with some incredible tracks to come.
