"IT WAS A PANIC BUT WE GOT THERE"

Becca said

"This is a huge honour coming straight back into the music industry and sharing a stage with such an iconic and talented artist. I grew up listening to Natasha's music, She has been so supportive and given me so much time to have conversations over the phone and dropping messages on the run up to the festival. Whilst the track was not performance ready I did pull in some favours with my producer to get something produced that I could at least sing to so I could test the waters with my new Umbrella Dreams" track. I'm not going to lie it was a bit of a panic but we got there in the end.

For anybody wanting to attend a festival with a difference I highly advise IDEASFest they call it the Glastonbury of business and you can see why. walking around the field with the likes of Natasha, Simon Squibb & Arian Kalantari (creator of LadBible).
